

I stongly urge you to keep the NoCall List intact. I have a right to some privacy and do not wish to be bothered by telemarketers pushing products and services that I have no interest in. I work at home sometimes and I would get 25-30 calls/day before the list went into effect.